

A close-up photograph of a person's hand holding a pencil, poised to write on a piece of light-colored paper. The paper is placed on a grey surface, and a piece of brown cardboard is visible in the background. The text on the paper is written in a cursive font. There is a faint, circular stamp or smudge on the paper above the text.

Thank You
Letter to Grandma

“The International Day of the Elderly is celebrated annually (since 1991) on October 1 all over the world. In this regard, I decided to write a thank-you letter to my beloved grandmother.”

Dedicated to my beloved grandmother Anna Korneevna

My dear grandmother Anya!

I would like to thank you for being there. You never cease to amaze and delight me throughout my life. There's so much I want to tell you, because it's somehow easier to do it in a letter! You know, my dear grandmother! The older I get, the more often I want to repeat: "I'm sorry ...". Forgive me that I can't come to you more often, I'm sorry that time is so fleeting, I'm sorry that there is often not enough time for the most relatives! This is probably because those closest to us forgive everything!!! But when I come to you, I don't want to leave at all! Grandma, you know, I'm in a hurry to do everything! Today is an English language class, tomorrow is work, the day after tomorrow is school again, and so it's all over again. You see, Grandma, I need it for my future, but all this takes time, which is always not enough! And I just want to see you more often and know that you are there, that everything is fine with you.

Thank you for:

- your love of life, energy and good nature;
- for not giving up on diseases and loss of strength, overcoming weaknesses and staying active;
- for a brilliant sense of humor, which does not fade with age, but only becomes brighter. Thanks to it, I get pleasure even from your grumbling;
- for the fact that despite the years and modest opportunities you continue to be a real woman - well-groomed, beautiful, witty and caring. Thanks to your example, I know that close people and family interests come first;
- for everyday cunning, which helps not only you to avoid difficulties, but it has been useful to me more than once to save nerves, health, time and energy.

But most importantly, Grandma, I am deeply grateful to you for the fact that I have the opportunity to enjoy your active life. Thank you for doing everything to stay active, healthy and please me as long as possible with your presence in this world. I promise that I will help you with this. Please live longer. I love you!

With gratitude, your granddaughter Anastasia!

